

The court room is to be fitted up a-new.
The iron bridge across the Saline river needs repairs.
Ice, 18 cents fine, always on hand at D. F. Donegan's.

The new addition to Sheldon Brothers' mill looketh well.
Three new dwelling houses are going up on Ninth street.

Attorney General Williams was in town one day last week.

Tuesday was a cool, enjoyable day after the late hot season.
Rev. Dr. Kendall, of New York city, was in the city last week.

Mr. John Doyle was granted a saloon license last Friday evening.

We ask again, are we not to have a fourth of July celebration this year?

Willis Kessler is talking of building a fine large business house on Santa Fe.

Harvesting is going on finely, and the demand for more help has been very great.

The stone work upon Hamlin & Woolley's new store will be completed in a few days.

Since the herd law decision, some people's horses and cattle have become awful careless.

Werry's ice-cream saloon is now in splendid running operation. Refrigerator at Werry's.

Take warning from the late fire and insure your homes in good companies at Durham's.

L. M. Steele, the wide-awake real estate agent of Minneapolis, gave us a call last Monday.

How about the city printing? Economy! economy! we've heard them say, but why don't they act?

It is thought that the Council will change the sidewalks from twelve to eight feet in width, north of Ash street.

A well furnished room, a splendid and sumptuous retreat, and the best of ice-cream at Whitman's restaurant.

New and elegant styles of clothing of every description, just received, and is being sold at great bargains at the Salina Clothing Store.

After the unremitting toil of the day, when the "moon-beams look so silvery," call in at Whitman's and take a dish of his ice-cream.

If you are in any way anxious about purchasing your hardware and tinware very cheap, call at Radcliffe Brothers and talk with them.

During the raging storm that prevailed last Friday night, Maj. Berk's minaret sign collapsed, but will soon be re-installed.

We are glad to hear that Col. W. S. Chum, of Texas, designs either of building or purchasing a dwelling house in this city, and moving his family here.

If you would secure your share of the immigration now rolling up the Saline valley, citizens, build the much needed bridge over the Saline river.

Auction still continues every Saturday at Donegan & Dyer's lively stable, while M. S. Price, a connoisseur at auctioneering, does his "level best."

The Presbyterian church of this city is to have a bell. We understand that this society is to have a new minister. He comes from near Dayton, Ohio.

Our readers will notice by the correspondence on the second page that the Lincoln Centennial is proposed to celebrate the fourth of July in the good old fashioned manner.

An effort is now being made to establish a daily line of stages between this city and Minneapolis. Some of the lively men of this city talk of engaging in the enterprise.

Saline county should vote bonds in aid of at least one good, substantial railroad and then stop. Let her watch her chances and invest in the most feasible route. Competition we must have.

As it is almost certain that Salina is to have another railroad, and as a consequence property will go up to the highest figures, parties should call in season at Durham's and invest in his cheap city and country property.

What's the use of seeking foreign climes for the purpose of restoring the health? While Probert is always keeping the purest drugs and medicines which possess health restoring qualities not found in the Swiss mountain air, or 'neath the sunny slopes of the Apennines.

"From Greenland's icy mountains," Donegan brought a sufficiency of pure, crystal ice for all the inhabitants of the Smoky Hill. All desiring "cool" welcome, (figuratively speaking) should look in upon Dan at his lively stable and leave orders for their daily supply.

The sale of Texas cattle at Salina, this season, has been limited, and it is not to be expected that they will be in active demand until they are recruited from their recent, long journey. The prices range about as follows: yearlings, $7; two-year-olds, $8; cows, $18; heaves, $25.

Goodnow's lumber yard is a great resort, for we notice large numbers of teams filling in and out daily. He is receiving large quantities of first-class lumber continually, and is selling cheaper than any other yards in the west. He has the largest and best stocked yard in Western Kansas.

We have not as yet heard that our agricultural society have decided to engage the services of a speaker from abroad to deliver an agricultural address upon the occasion of the fair this fall. We hope that the society will make an effort to get a speaker. The address is an important part of most of the agricultural fairs.

A photograph of the old log house south of Sheldon's mill—Bradley's hotel in pioneering days—which was taken from a sketch made by Bayard Taylor, when making his Denver trip, was shown to us the other day. It was intended by the artist as an illustration of hotel accommodations in the "desert." If Bayard were to visit us now, we are sure his cosmopolitanism would be satisfied.

At times communications have appeared in these columns, showing the diversity of opinions upon the same subject. Now, we advocate fair play, and propose to give each and every one a hearing, providing the language is couched in becoming terms. We also propose to have it understood that all the correspondence published in the columns of THE JOURNAL, whether true or untrue, was written by individuals known to us to be responsible for what they have stated.

Go to the railroad meeting, Friday night.
J. C. Granger keeps sweet and juicy meats at his market and is obliging. We have tried him and found all this true.

FOR SALE.—A lot of second-hand type, at 20 cents per pound. It is suitable for boxing in mills, etc., and is equal to Babbitt's metal. Call at this office.

Mr. J. E. Fisher, the efficient county and district clerk of our neighboring county of McPherson, started Friday evening from the city on a visit to his old home near Cleveland, Ohio. May pleasure go with him. He will return in about four weeks.

PRINTER WANTED.—We want a number one printer and one possessing the qualities of sobriety and steadiness may address this office. A permanent situation to such an one is assured.

Mr. E. E. Bowen, one of our successful real estate and insurance agents, has taken a partner in the person of Mr. Geo. Van Horn, lately from New York, and the firm now is Bowen & VanHorn. From a partial acquaintance formed with Mr. VanHorn we believe he will be a valuable acquisition to the firm.

C. A. Hiller, Esq., one of our most promising attorneys, started east Tuesday evening. He will visit New Haven, Connecticut, his old home, and be present at the commencement exercises of Yale College. Charley will probably return us with a letter or so while absent. He will be gone about two months. The good wishes of many friends from this section, are his.

At Salina, at least one hundred passengers took breakfast—and a few could not procure seats at the table—and at least one hundred dollars changed hands.—[Correspondence of the Lawrence Journal.]

This is not only evidence that Friend Keith keeps a hotel that is popular and is doing a fine business, but that Salina is attracting the attention of thousands of eastern people to her importance.

It will be noticed by their advertisement which appears in this paper, that Capt. D. W. Henderson, formerly a justice of the peace of this township, has formed a partnership with Mr. David Pontious, at the new town of Lincoln Center, in Lincoln county, in merchandising. We understand they have commenced with a fine business, and that their trade is constantly enlarging. Their stock is first class. We recommend Capt. Henderson to the people of Lincoln county as an excellent gentleman, and all the people in it is country—where the Captain is so favorably thought of—will ejaculate, Amen!

About ten o'clock A. M., Monday, a small frame building on Fourth street, nearly opposite Goodnow's lumber yard was discovered on fire. There was considerable wind at the time, and the fire made such rapid progress that before our people could arrive at the place, the building was under a sheet of flame. Every effort was made that could be made to save the building, but no part of it save a little log addition in the rear escaped destruction. The building was tenanted by three Swedish families. The goods and effects of two of the families were saved, while the other family lost nearly everything. The fire originated from a defective flue. This is the first fire that has happened in Salina since the year 1867.

Court adjourned Tuesday evening. Some sixty cases were on the calendar, and some of them were very important. A decree of divorce was granted in one case in fifteen minutes and twenty seconds, the "fastest on record." In the famous Brandon case, the jury returned a verdict of "not guilty." Messrs. Foster and Sued were attorneys for the defendant in this case. The railroad tax case was decided in favor of the county. A verdict was returned in a replevin case which astounded the court, attorneys and spectators, and which the "opposite counsel" give as a good illustration of what a jury can sometimes do. We understand that the term of court was a pleasant one, and that Judge Canfield is winning good opinions from the members of the district bar.

We are pleased to announce that the greatest exhibition ever witnessed in the world—grand by far than the brilliant scenic display in the theaters of Paris—is about to be seen in Salina. The proprietors are well known in our country, and by their many good qualities and reliability as business men, have established themselves firmly in the hearts and affections of the people. J. M. and B. L. Wilson are their names. The "canvass" is spread at the corner of Iron Avenue and Seventh street. The exhibition will commence this evening and continue every night and day during the summer season. Admission free. Gentlemenly ushers will be in attendance. Among the unlimited number of curiosities on exhibition, will be found the largest and best stock of groceries, hats, clothing, queens-ware, etc., etc.—newly arrived—that ever came to this city. One of the most successful and distinguished and successful of his profession, will make it a special point to lecture upon the intrinsic value and the history of each and every article.

Announcement.
To the VOTERS of SALINE COUNTY:
I announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff at the fall election.

I do this this early in order to give my opponents full opportunity to say and do all they can against me, and my friends the opportunity to be united in my support.

I am Republican in politics, having always acted with the party from its organization up to the present time; was a member of the first State convention in New York that put a state ticket in the field, was president of the first Republican club ever started in Kansas—at Topeka in 1857—and, in 1862, worked incessantly, and I think effectively, in defeating the project to destroy the Republican party and create a Union party in its stead; and again in 1864, I stood almost alone in the House of Representatives, and entered my protest, in the name of the people, against the Carney fraud, (as it was called) which was another effort to disintegrate the Republican party, by creating a Chase party, as opposed to Lincoln. But while I am an uncompromising Republican, I am no partisan or man-worshiper, and corruption and rascality in high places will always meet my unflinching opposition; and what I have done in this line, my efforts in proving guilty and successfully impeaching the state officers, and saving a vast sum of money to the State in 1863, will bear me witness.

The honors of the office, I care nothing for, but the dollars and cents I DO WANT AND NEED, and if the people vote them to me, I will try and make a faithful officer; but I want no man to vote for me from sympathy alone, for if you think I would not make an efficient and faithful officer, you should vote for some man whom you think competent and faithful.

I have little taste for electioneering, as usually carried on, and personal cliques formed for political traffic, on the principle of "You push me and I will push you," regardless of merit or fitness for office, I detect; but I will at all times, when in my power, sustain Republican principles and all good men who represent the party.

M. L. JONES.

Two Storms.—The storm that passed through this section of country last Friday evening, according to the opinions of the oldest inhabitants, was the most fearful and destructive one ever witnessed in this portion of the state since its settlement. It commenced about six o'clock in the evening at this place. Hall stones of the size of hen's eggs and larger, fell in the country, and here they were little less in size. The wind and rain were driving, furnishing a sample of the school-day pictures of the East India storms. The storm seems to have been a respite of persons, for while some farmers had their crops nearly all destroyed, others suffered little or no damage. Its course occupied a strip of from six to eight miles in width. Santa Fe Avenue was one livid sheet of foaming water. Occasionally, signs, wagons, hay-coops, etc., were sent flying pell-mell. One family in the city, near the land office, had their dwelling unroofed, compelling them to seek protection in the storm. Another house on Seventh street was moved several feet from its foundation and partially unroofed. We learn of no injuries being suffered personally by any of our citizens. Luckily much of the fall wheat had been cut. The spring wheat and oats were the worst used up and most of these are fit only for first-rate cattle feed. The railroad depot barely escaped destruction. The lightning passed into the office on the telegraph wires, demolishing instruments and creating a general upheaving. The inmates were absent and it was only by timely arrival that the building was saved from conflagration. We are enabled to glean in the following some of the several losses: Hon. H. L. Jones, four miles south, lost his entire crop with the exception of about one half of his fall wheat, which had been cut. His potatoes since present the appearance of brightening up and making a crop. He had entered his farm at our county fair this fall, for premium, but he cannot now make any claims. The residence of R. S. Champlin, near Mr. Jones, was moved several feet from its foundation. The building was occupied at the time by his family. He lost similarly to Mr. Jones, in crops. Jno. H. Smith, Barrett, C. R. Underwood and Henry Ottman, owning farms in the same neighborhood, were equal sufferers. On Gypsum Creek the house of Lowell Reese was blown down; also the house occupied by Rev. Barstis, M. E. pastor formerly of Salina. He was compelled with his wife and children to go a couple of miles to find protection at a neighbor's. His brother was somewhat injured by the fall. Another building owned by a Mr. Lossens, and used for school purposes, was moved several feet from its foundation. The three buildings were all new. The crops generally are destroyed, though some have escaped with only small losses. About one half of the fall wheat has been saved but the spring wheat, corn, etc., will be about a total loss. It is estimated that the crop will now make five to ten bushels to the acre on an average.

"You Know How 'Tis Yourself!"
When a person wants to buy cheap, he goes where they will cheap and can afford to sell at "red rock prices."

"Which is Why"
So many are disposed to call on

FLANDERS & MARLIN.
"Which is the Same I Rise to Explain"

In the first place, they buy and sell for cash, always buy as low as the lowest, and by selling for cash can afford to do business on a much smaller margin than if they sold on time.

For they do not have to charge their good-paying customers extra prices in order to make up what they lose on poor-paying ones.

Consequently I think

FLANDERS & MARLIN'S
IS THE PLACE TO BUY

DRY GOODS,
of which they keep as large and well-assorted stock as you will find in the West, and
